PROUD TO BE, PROUD TO BELONG

Welcome back to the first half of the Summer Term.

A very happy Eid Mubarak to all that celebrated last week.

This week

Congratulations to eagle class for their 98.06 % attendance, this is a huge achievement.

Reception: The children have been telling the time to O'clock.

They are learning about a wormery and how to make them. T hey are learning to write instructions for a wormery.

They are creating Minibeast collages in Art. They are learning to become fluent readers.

The year One team have started a new book in English called The Man on the Moon by Simon Bartram. We had great fun describing our alien!

In maths we are learning place value.

We have been learning about our local landmark, Wembley stadium, in geography. We are very excited to visit the stadium next week.

In science we are continuing with our Materials topic. Click on the link below to learn about the properties of materials.

Year Two:

This week year 2 have started work on another Roald Dahl text "The Twits." The children have really been enjoying the book and have written a character description of Mr Twit.

In Humanities, they have started our new topic on St Lucia.

In Science we have started learning about plants and investigating which seeds will grow into which plant.

What is Screen Distance?

Starting in iOS 17 and iPadOS 17, Screen Distance is turned on by default for children under 13 in a Family Sharing group.

Viewing something such as a device or book too closely for an extended period of time can increase eyestrain and the risk of myopia. The Screen Distance feature in Screen Time uses the True Depth camera to detect when you hold your iPhone closer than 30 cm (12 inches) for an extended period, and encourages you to move it further away. Screen Distance can help children engage in healthy viewing habits that can lower their risk of myopia and can give people of all ages the opportunity to reduce digital eyestrain.

Screen Distance is turned on by default for children under 13* in a Family Sharing group. If you don't want Screen Distance turned on, you can turn it off in iPhone or iPad settings.

To make sure that your Screen Distance settings sync across devices, update all of the devices in your Family Sharing group to the latest software version before changing your Screen Distance settings.

 Age varies by country or region.
